Tempers flared at the climax of the City Council meeting Tuesday over appointments to the Planning Commission.

Following unanimous agreement on the appointment of Hugh Sherfy, Mayor Mervin M. Schwab and Councilman Nicholas O. Dralle fell at odds over the second appointment when Mayor Schwab failed to endorse Jim Minter, supposedly reversing a previous stand taken in an agenda meeting. The Mayor offered a petition signed by 137 residents favoring Bill Cameron, stating that he must go along with what the people want.

Minter's appointment was defeated 3-2, Councilman Victor Benstead siding with Councilman Dralle. No action was taken on Cameron.
